Axiory Global's (<http://www.axiory.com>) status as a member of the Financial Commission took effect on November 1, 2016, following the approval of its membership application by FinaCom PLC's board, thus allowing the company and its customers to be entitled to related membership benefits.

Financial Commission provides brokerages and their customers with an unbiased 3rd party mediation platform that helps resolve complaints in instances when parties are unable to directly come to an agreement over disputes.

For approved members and their clients participating in CFDs, binary options and foreign exchange (forex) markets, Financial Commission helps facilitate a simpler, swifter resolution process than through typical regulatory channels such as arbitration or local court systems.

Axiory Global joins a diverse range of brokerages and independent services providers (ISPs) that utilize the services of the Financial Commission and as part of their commitment to their clients while upholding membership requirements.

Financial Commission Chairman, Peter Tatarnikov said, "We are proud to welcome Axiory Global as our latest approved member and the most recent brokerage to join the Financial Commission. Our ongoing membership growth reflects the importance of efficient dispute resolution, and companies and their clients value when it's provided by a neutral 3rd party. Financial Commission provides an unmatched dispute resolution process which is now extended to our newest member Axiory Global."

Representatives of Axiory Global commented, "Axiory Global's long-term goal is to continue providing highly transparent services, along with striving to develop user-friendly tools that respond to customer demands. Therefore Axiory Global has formed a partnership with The Financial Commission – the first, neutral, third party Dispute Resolution Organization that is dedicated specifically to Forex industry. The Financial Commission is a professional organization that operates in a way where transparency, swiftness, and education are the paramount values." They also noted, "By being a Financial Commission members, we in Axiory Global ensures that traders and our client get their disputes resolved in a quick and efficient manner. Our company will always meet the needs of its customers, as well as work on the development of user-friendly tools. We are happy to announce the partnership with The Financial Commission and provide worldwide transparent and honest services."
